Allan Delmare
Rappahannock Cellars

I've never seen a company in the wine industry who puts so much effort into actively developing their product: new features, improvements, and updates are released every week. That's incredible. It keeps me from worrying about what else is out there in the marketplace that I might be missing in my POS and ecommerce solutions... if you're not with Vin65, it's what you're missing out on.
